What: Benicia Has Agencies Ready Help People in Need

Living by the bay can be wonderful. We truly live in a beautiful community. For many living here feels like paradise. But for some life can feel frightening, threatening and sad. Our economic climate is terrific for many but some are struggling. Fortunately, we have several organizations in place whose focus is to help those in need survive and even thrive.

Come meet representatives from these agencies and hear about how they do what they do:

- Benicia Community Action Council
- Families in Transition
- Benicia Housing Authority
- St. Vincent de Paul Society
- Family Resource Center
- St. Paul's Wednesday Night Dinners
- Safequest Solano
- Food Bank of Contra Costa and Solano Counties
